During the years that followed the end of WWII the Canadian North was still very much a frontier. Northern settlements depended heavily on resupply from the south via ships and aircraft. At that time, flying large aircraft in the Canadian Arctic was a novelty, and few airmen had a great deal of experience with the challenges of Arctic flying.

In early 1950, the United States Navy had begun planning a resupply mission called OP NANOOK 50. This involved sending two icebreakers with cargo ships to resupply Arctic weather stations at Resolute Bay, Alert and Eureka, as well as to resupply Thule Air Force Base in Greenland. Additionally, Canada tasked 405 'Eagle' Squadron, at Greenwood Nova Scotia, to support OP NANOOK by providing two Lancaster aircraft and crews. One Lancaster was to be available at all times to fly ice reconnaissance, while the other was to be ready on the ground for search and rescue operations.

On 31 July 1950, in support of OP NANOOK, 405 'Eagle' Squadron Lancaster (#965) flew an Arctic survey, surveillance and resupply mission. The mission included an air drop of vital supplies and mail at Alert, the most northerly permanently inhabited station in the world. Unfortunately, during the drop one of the parachutes caught the aircraft controls causing it to crash. Sadly all nine crewmembers perished.

Those lost on board Lancaster 965 that day were:

Wing Commander D.T. French, DFC
Flight Lieutenant L.M. (Lorne) McLean
Flight Lieutenant J.F.L. Swinton
Flying Officer J.R.G. Dubé
Flying Officer T.D. (Del) Martin
Leading Aircraftman R.L. Sprange
Leading Aircraftman R.L. Sprange
Dr. D.W. Kirk

On 30 July 2010, 60 years after the tragic crash of Lancaster 965, 405 Long Range Patrol Squadron will be hosting a ceremony at 14 Wing Greenwood to unveil a memorial stone. The stone will join others along the Memorial Walkway at the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum, and offers a quiet place to contemplate and remember those that have been lost for the greater good of our nation.

405 Long Range Patrol Squadron would like to include as many past Squadron members, family members, and friends as possible in this event.

Adjusting: A Strength of Military Families

Submitted by Jennifer Hill, GMFRC Coordinator of Prevention Support and Intervention Services 765-1494 ext 1811

When something in our lives changes whether it’s a posting, deployment, new school there is some form of loss that takes place. Our ability to adjust to different situations greatly depends on our emotions: are we sad, angry, anxious, excited, and / or afraid about the change. Is it a fear of the unknown or excitement about an adventure? Knowing how you feel and how your family feels is the first step to take when trying to adapt to the new situation.

If your family is experiencing a change it is important to find positive ways to adjust. Adjusting can be difficult, especially for any children, as various forms of change feel like they are life long. Adjusting can take time, its important to take small steps and be patient. Some tips to help you prepare and adjust could be:

• Coming up With A Plan - If you are aware that something will be changing, take some time and develop a plan. If you are being posted try doing some research on the town you are going to. Talk to friends or family who have visited the place before. Having a plan will help you to feel prepared and in control.
• Making Sure that everyone is on the Same Page - Get everyone in your family an open opportunity to share with one another how they are feeling about the change. This will help them feel that they are included in the process and have some control over the situation.
• Letting the Kids Help - If you have children this could also be a good time to involve them in the planning process. Let them write a list of things they want to do when they get there. This will help get them excited for an ‘adventure’.
• Getting Connected - If you are adjusting to a move you can try different ways to get involved in some of your communities activities; your local MFRC is a great way to start and get you connected. If you would like more information on adjustment during a change please contact Jennifer Hill at the GMFRC.

In September of 1999 the Deputy Judge Advocate (DJA) position was established on site at 14 Wing Greenwood to provide legal advice to the 14 Wing Command Team. Legal support is primarily in the areas of operations, military justice and military administrative law and to ensure that all operations and activities are conducted in accordance with the laws of Canada and International law.

Since July of 2007, Lieutenant Commander (LCdr) Robyn Barnet has been the Wing legal advisor (the 4th legal advisor since the office opened). In 1999 she enrolled in the Naval Reserves with Her Majesty’s Canadian Ship (HMCS) Scotian as a Supply Technician. LCdr Barnet graduated from law school in 2001, and then articulated with Nova Scotia Legal Aid in their Criminal Law office, and was called to the Nova Scotia Bar in 2001 at which time she completed a component transfer to the Judge Advocate General Branch. Her first posting was to Geilenkirchen, Germany as the Deputy Judge Advocate (Europe) from 2003-2007. During this time she did a tour in Bosnia, as Deputy Legal Advisor to the Commander of North American Treaty Organization Stabilization Force (NATO SFOR), from July to November 2004. In the near future we will see LCdr Barnet deploying to Afghanistan from May 2010 to January 2011 as a legal mentor to the 205th Afghan National Army Corp Headquarters at Camp Hero in Kandahar.

LCdr Barnet would not be able to perform her duties without the tireless efforts, knowledge and assistance of her Legal Assistant Cathy MacKenzie. Cathy came to the office from the Federal Department of Justice, and has been with the office since it opened 10 years ago, and is a key member of the team. Prior to joining the DJA Greenwood office, Cathy has been employed with the public service since 1976 with various Government Departments. She came to the Greenwood area in 1996 with her husband on his retirement posting. As both the daughter and wife of former military members, Cathy’s entire life both in Canada and abroad has been in a military environment.

The Deputy Judge advocate (DJA) Greenwood reports to the Assistant Judge Advocate General (AJAG) Atlantic in Halifax, and provides legal support to not only 14 Wing Greenwood but also 5 Wing Goose Bay, 9 Wing Gander and Canadian Forces Station St John’s.

The DJA office has a mandate to provide limited legal aid assistance to support Canadian Forces members. The DJA does not provide personal legal advice, but may be able to assist you in finding the appropriate legal support. Their office is located on the ground floor of Wing Head Quarters room 137, local 5623. They also have a webpage which is accessible on the DIN through the 14 Wing Home Page.

72 hours… Is your family prepared?

Submitted by: Captain David Wm. Nelson, A3 Readiness and Evaluation, 14 Wing Operations / A3 Plans

Wing Operations
Natural disasters may be beyond our control, but there are ways to reduce the risk and possible consequences for whatever emergency we might face — whether natural or human-induced.

The 15th annual Emergency Preparedness Week (May 2-8, 2010), encourages Canadians to be prepared to cope on their own for at least the first 72 hours of an emergency while rescue workers help those in urgent need. This special week is a national effort of provincial and territorial emergency management organizations, coordinated through Public Safety Canada. 14 Wing personnel are encouraged to contact (Capt Dave Nelson, loc: 3219), our Wing Emergency Response Plan coordinator, to learn more about our organization’s role in emergency response.

By taking a few simple steps, you and your family can become better prepared to face a range of emergencies — anytime, anywhere. It is important to:

• Know the risks — Although the consequences of disasters can be similar, knowing the risks specific to our community and region can help you better prepare.

• Make a plan — It will help you and your family know what to do, and

• Get an emergency kit — During an emergency, we will all need some basic supplies. We may need to get by without power or tap water. Be prepared to be self-sufficient for at least 72 hours in an emergency.

These three simple steps will better prepare you and your family to face a range of emergencies.

The Emergency Preparedness Week site, www.GetPrepared.ca (or your EMO or local website) contains listings of activities during EP Week and more resources to help you and your family prepare for all types of emergencies.

This week, I encourage you to take concrete actions to be better prepared. Canadians expect their governments to show leadership in dealing with emergencies and we all have a role to play. Experience has shown that individual preparedness goes a long way to help people cope better — both during and after a major disaster. Get an emergency kit now — it can make a world of difference later.

15 facts about emergency preparedness
Here are 15 facts to mark 15 years of getting better prepared for emergencies:

• Roughly 3,500 earthquakes are recorded in Canada every year.

• Canada gets more tornadoes than any other country except the U.S., averaging about 50 tornadoes per year.

• The worldwide cost of natural disasters has skyrocketed from $2 billion in the 1980s, to $27 billion over the past decade.

• Canada’s first billion dollar disaster, the Saguenay flood of 1996, triggered a surge of water, rocks, trees and mud that force 12,000 residents to evacuate their homes.

• Some hailstones are the size of peas while others can be as big as grapefruit.

• Approximately 80% of Canadians agree that having an emergency kit is necessary to their safety, yet only one-third of Canadian households have prepared or bought an emergency kit.

• In 2009, Manitoba’s Red River recorded its second highest spring flooding in nearly 100 years. Nearly 3,000 people were evacuated from their homes.

• Ice, branches or power lines can continue to break and fall for several hours after the end of an ice storm.

• The deadliest heat wave in Canadian history produced temperatures exceeding 44ºC in Manitoba and Ontario in 1936. Rail lines and bridge girders twisted, sidewalks buckled, crops wilted and fruit baked on trees.

• In 2007, the Prairies experienced 410 severe weather events including tornadoes, heavy rain, wind and hail, nearly double the yearly average of 221 events.

• The coldest temperature reached in North America was –83ºC, recorded in 1947 in Snag, Yukon.

• The largest landslide in Canada involved 185 million m³ of material and created a 40 m deep scar that covered the size of 80 city blocks in 1894 at Saint-Alban, Quebec.

• Hurricanes are bigger and cause more widespread damage than tornadoes (a very large system can be up to 1,000 kilometres wide).

• 79% of Canadians say it is important to have a family emergency plan, yet on only 33% have prepared one. Complete yours online at www.GetPrepared.ca.

• One of the most destructive and disruptive storms in Canadian history was the 1998 ice storm in Eastern Canada causing hardship for 4 million people and costing $3 billion. Power outages lasted for up to 4 weeks.

Les Débrouillards from Greenwood win the Judges’ Award at the FLL International Robotics Competition in Atlanta, Georgia

Team Les Débrouillards - meaning “the Resourceful Ones” - from Ecole Rose-Village of Greenwood, represented Nova Scotia at the international robotics competition “For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology” (FIRST) Lego League (FLL), taking place in Atlanta, Georgia from April 14th to 17th. This year, 82 teams from 32 countries participated in the event. The FLL is a program that, in addition to robotics, also involves studying, researching and finding solutions to a thematic problem put forth - this year’s theme being “Smart Move”, addressing issues with the environment.

The Judges’ Award is presented for unique efforts, performance, and dynamics that merit recognition - giving the judges the freedom to recognize the team for which a standard award does not exist. Les Débrouillards demonstrated outstanding professionalism by helping a team from Newfoundland and Labrador in resolving their technical difficulties, and displayed extraordinary team spirit by overcoming several language barriers - particularly while interacting with their paired team coming from South Korea.

It was a long road to the competition in Atlanta since the win at the provincial level at Acadia University in January, the Team ramping up the training and successfully fundraising over $9,000 in just under 10 weeks. The whole Team would like to heart fully thank their sponsors and everyone that generously donated to the cause, enabling them to attend this unique experience. A list of the sponsors can be found on the Team’s website at www.lesdebrouillards.web.com.

While Les Débrouillards were well prepared for the competition, they unfortunately encountered some technical difficulties with their own robot in the early runs. Upon troubleshooting and performing some modifications, they managed a score of 295/400 on their last run, ranking them 46th out of 82 teams in robot’s performance.

This was truly a success for Les Débrouillards, participating in the international event after only two years of competing in the FLL. The kids and coaches alike learned a great deal, and with the experience obtained in this major event, they are ready to tackle next year’s challenge, sporting the “Bio-Medical” theme. The Team would sincerely like to thank everyone for the ongoing support, and is looking forward to share its knowledge with other FLL teams and schools interested in the program.

Cruising down the road with a friend, your car hits a bump and your car bottoms out. “Man, did you feel that?” asks your passenger. “The rear end of your car was kissing the ground hard. “You have got to get some new shocks.”

Steve Boutilier, Service Manager for Canadian Tire, Greenwood says, “the truth is you did not feel a thing. You have been driving with bad shocks for a long time, unaware that your car fails to hug the road on a curve or that it bounces from side to side on a rough road”.

You did not notice this for the same reason you did not notice your children growing taller or your parents turning grayer. It all happens gradually. This is why motorists should be aware of failing shocks or, depending upon your vehicle, struts.

Steve explains, “One misconception about these components is that their purpose is strictly to ensure a more comfortable ride. Not so. The primary function of shock absorbers and struts is to help your car maintain steady contact with the road.”

In addition, good shocks and/or the struts that incorporate shock absorbers, save wear and tear of other components. Tires, steering linkage, ball joints, springs and CV joints may need premature replacement when these components fail to perform.

A shock strut depends upon hydraulic action for resistance that controls the up-and-down motion, aka “ride control”. When this component wears, developing a leak, an under-car inspection will disclose an oily deposit on the tubular part of the component.

To guard against this situation, have these components inspected whenever your car is being serviced, or at least every 25,000 kms, advises Steve.

Health & Safety Takes Commitment

“How Safe Are You?”
02 to 08 May 2010
North American Occupational Safety & Health (NAOSH) Week is being celebrated the week of 2nd to 8th May 2010. The goal of NAOSH Week is to focus on reinforcing and strengthening our commitment to health and safety through solid risk management practices, education and injury and illness prevention. This can only be accomplished by starting today and asking yourself “How Safe Are You?”

This year’s continuing slogan: “Safety and Health: A Commitment for Life” reflects the need to focus on the concept of health and safety and the vigilance and dedication required to the principles of hazard and risk control management.

This year’s theme “How Safe Are You?” challenges each and every one of us to pose that question. Are we safe or not safe? Have you ever taken the time to ask that very interesting question? Weather it be cutting the grass, taking down those Christmas decorations, driving on a busy highway or just performing the daily tasks associated with our jobs we have a tendency to try to get things done as quickly and efficiently as possible. Although this type of attitude allows us to find more efficient ways of doing things, efficiency only enhances production or the task when safety is a key component of the processes from the onset. As with many accomplishments in life there is an associated journey we pursue to achieve our outcomes and successes. Over the years I have come to realize that “Safety” is one such journey. It’s a road or journey that leads us home safely at the end of every work day, thus it is extremely important that we lay out the proper safety road map and look for better ways to ensure we reach our ultimate destination safely. Regardless of the safety journey we embark on there will always be hazards and risks along the way. The key is to look for and identify these signs, follow the proper rules for the road and travel our journey with care. There have always been differing philosophies surrounding accidents and safety. Some may philosophize that accidents simply happen while others may suggest that “safety” happens. Accidents and safety are different sides of the same coin related to such common concepts as risk and benefit. Even though there may be an element of chance and uncertainty related to both concepts, I would suggest that accidents and safety don’t just “happen”; they are caused. We must continue to instill and promote a “safety culture” that strives for zero injuries, illnesses and most importantly zero fatalities. To ensure we are all safe and make it home safely to our family and loved ones every day; we all must take responsibility for health and safety and be pro-active in identifying potential causes of injury and illness. Once identified; we must ensure appropriate action is taken to correct these causes so that no one becomes injured or ill. We can all take action to improve our processes, programs and performance in occupational health and safety. By doing so; we can make our work environments safer places and communities safer and healthier places.

We must all be pro-active safety leaders’ weather we work at work or in our communities and spread the message that health and safety is a way of life. In the workplace, we can work towards instilling a very powerful form of social energy called a positive safety culture, which focuses on putting the organizations priorities on protecting people’s health and safety. We can all work towards recognizing and supporting community initiatives that help to protect the public and spread the health and safety message. Let’s ensure that this year you take the time to ask “How Safe Are You?”. I am confident that the answers will tell us not only about a safer environment for yourself, your family, your workplace and your community.

Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre (GMFRC)

Located in the back of the blue GMFRC building is the office of Michelle Thibodeau-Wagner, the Coordinator of Special Events and Promotion for the GMFRC. Michelle began with the Centre five years ago as a valued volunteer who contributed over a hundred hours each year. With her wealth of experience and background in marketing Michelle was the ideal candidate when the new Coordinator of Special Events position was created a year ago. When she isn’t running a community event, Michelle’s time is spent on the phone or emailing businesses and families garnering very positive results! Deployed families are always included in every activity that is planned!

The GMFRC hosts Special Events throughout the year. Great events like an Open House, National Family Week activities and the annual Christmas Breakfast. They are also involved in conjunction with the 14 Wing Community Centre with several other events which include Easter on the Wing, Canada Day on the Wing, Christmas on the Wing (with the support of the Wing Council), and a Family snowshoe day. Special Events use more “volunteers” than any other program in the centre. The promotions are mostly local events like Sobeys Anniversary BBQ lunch, Yellow ribbon campaign, Canada Day Yellow Ribbon on trees and local business signage to support troops, Red Shirt Friday’s, Red Friday walk and lunch, Spaghetti suppers, Kingston duck pond walk, adopt an apple tree at Johnson’s orchard in Harmony and the Deployed Troop Awareness-Yellow Ribbon blitz!

Another huge activity is Morale Mail for our deployed personnel. Five times a year, Valentines Day, Easter, Canada Day, Halloween and Christmas the GMFRC sends care packages to all of 14 Wing’s deployed troops. Also at Christmas, they work with local elementary schools on a special project called “Adopt the Troops for Christmas”. The children provide handwritten notes, cards, and crafts while local businesses provide shirts and various other merchandise. Both of these activities generate very positive feedback from the families and members.

With exceedingly excellent support from the Wing, the office of the Coordinator of Special Events and Promotion successfully promotes awareness throughout the local communities of what a Military family experiences!

While the GMFRC has expanded their Awareness Campaign beyond their mandate, The GMFRC provides the only constant that most families have! They see that community awareness and recognition of the military lifestyle goes a long way in offering military families a connection to their community.

Activités spéciales

À l’arrière du bâtiment bleu qui abrite les locaux du CRFMG se trouve le bureau de Michelle Thibodeau-Wagner, la coordonnatrice des activités spéciales et de la promotion pour le CRFMG. Michelle a commencé à travailler au Centre il y a cinq ans, comme bénévole. Et quelle bénévole !

Les familles militaires en mission sont toujours prises en compte dans toutes les activités qui sont organisées !

Le CRFMG organise tout au long de l’année des activités spéciales dont certaines très populaires comme l’opération portes ouvertes, la Semaine des activités locales qui donnent des chemises et divers autres articles qui sont envoyés à nos militaires. Ces deux activités suscitent l’engouement des familles et des militaires.

Avec le soutien indéfectible de l’Escadre, le bureau de la coordonnatrice des activités spéciales et de la promotion réussit à donner aux résidents des communautés environnantes une bonne idée de ce que vivent les familles des militaires ! Le CRFMG a d’ailleurs élargi sa campagne de sensibilisation au-delà du cadre prévu par son mandat. Pour bien des familles, le Centre est le seul élément de stabilité. Il veille à ce que les militaires, grâce aux activités organisées pour sensibiliser la communauté au mode de vie des militaires, aient le sentiment d’appartenir à la communauté au sein de laquelle elles vivent.

LCol Flynn, CO 14 AMS presents the 14 AMS Excellence Award to Cpl Michelle White. During a Flight Safety (FS) investigation of a Prop build up, Cpl White, not satisfied that the initial assessment was the origin of the problem, initiated a static balance check. Normally carried out at the contractor level, this procedure revealed the number two blade to be significantly out of balance. Should this precautionary step not have been executed, the prop assembly would otherwise have been built up, reinstalled on an aircraft and failed the dynamic balancing check. Cpl White’s innovation and determination directly identified the root cause, led to successful closure of the FS, reduced 3rd line cost, and averted significant unproductive person hours, quickly returning an aircraft to operational status.

Sgt Colm Kennedy was awarded the Commanding Officer’s Commendation for his outstanding leadership and resourcefulness while preparing aircraft CP140115 for induction into the Aircraft Incremental Modernization Program. Aircraft 115, initially identified for retirement, was in deep rob status and preservation; not intended to fly again. With the decision to reintroduce the aircraft to the operational fleet, Sgt Kennedy, thriving under difficult circumstances and an aggressive induction schedule, overcame numerous resource challenges in order to return the aircraft to a flyable state. His efforts have been instrumental and a positive influence in maintaining the CP140 fleet on the road to modernization.

Maj Colwell, 14 AMSAMSO, presents Pte Ryan Pyke with his first hook 13 Apr 10.

Maj Smith, 14 AMS AMO, promotes Pte Patrick Fluet with his first hook 13 Apr 10.

Maj Smith, 14 AMS AMO, presents Pte Jamie Arseneau with his first hook.

Pte Anthony Bangay receives his first hook from Maj Smith, 14 AMS AMO.

Pte Ryan Pyke receives his first hook from Maj Smith, 14 AMS AMO 13 Apr 10.

Maj Colwell, 14 AMSAMSO, presents Pte Patrick Fluet with his first hook 13 Apr 10.

Captain Mario Andre receives his promotion from Lieutenant Colonel Cummings, Wing Operations Officer on the 20th of April.

Maj Smith, 14 AMS AMO, promotes A/L Cpl Tracie Gaudet.

Mcpl Nigel Ross receives his promotion from LCol Flynn, CO 14 AMS. His promotion was effective 01 Dec 2009; member was on parental leave and was officially presented with his new rank on 15 April 2010.

MCpl Duncan Haldane must be commended for his tireless efforts in support of the Squadron Flight Safety Program. In the last year, he has been unrivalled in providing assistance and expert knowledge to the 14 AMS Flight Safety Program. His input has contributed to the timely investigation and closure of numerous Flight Safety incidents. Incidents of particular mention are FSOMS Files 139390 and 139626, identifying the incorrect routing of the nose wheel steering cables. In these occurrences, MCpl Haldane provided substantial support in finding the answers to “how and why” the unserviceabilities occurred, as well as providing viable preventive measures that will mitigate a reoccurrence. FSOMS 134612, which identified the Right Main Landing Gear failing to retract, is another fine example of MCpl Haldane’s positive impact. His continuous involvement in the preliminary investigation greatly contributed to the lead investigator finding the root cause of the incident and implementing the necessary preventive measures. MCpl Haldane’s proactive approach and unwavering commitment towards Flight Safety is indicative of a seasoned professional technician who is setting the example for others to emulate. MCpl Haldane is truly deserving of the 14 AMS Safety Award.

Blood Donor Clinic
By Eric MacKenzie, Community Recreation Coordinator

Canadian Blood Services held another successful two day Blood Donor clinic at the 14 Wing Community Centre on Tuesday April 20th and Wednesday April 21st. Over 250 donors came to support this worthy cause and as a result 219 donations were collected, which can be used to save over 650 lives! Canadian Blood Services will hold their next two day clinic at the Kingston Lions Club on Monday June 28th and Tuesday 29th 2010. The Clinics will return to the 14 Wing Community Centre on Wednesday September 9th and Thursday 10th 2010. Canadian Blood Services is holding two day clinics as a result of the support from our local communities. Let’s continue to respond and take advantage of this opportunity by filling up two full days with appointments. If we can double our one day attendance, over both days, Canadian Blood Services may be able to collect enough donations to save over a thousand lives!

If you are interested in booking an appointment to give blood or to volunteer at this next two day clinic, please call 1-888-236-6283.

The 14 Wing Community Centre would like to thank Tim Hortons and McDonald’s for their continued sponsorship towards this event.

Fun By The Numbers
Here’s How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Open to Authorized Patrons Only
Greenwood Golf Club - (GGC)

By: Sergeant Pete Nicholson, 14 Wing Photojournalist

With the unusually warm start to spring and perfect weather conditions, the Greenwood Golf Club (GGC) officially opened on the 18th of March, the earliest date in recent course history. I spoke with Manager Mike McCory and Club President Major Tom Gorman for their outlook on the season.

The highlight event for the 2010 season will be the Nova Scotia Golf Association Mid-Amateur golf tournament scheduled for 18-20 June. 160 of the best golfers over twenty-five years old in the province will get to experience this great course. On the news front, this year will see new membership options. Payroll deductions for Military members or the option to use pre-authorized bank debit; payments for both plans are spread out over the remaining months in the current Fiscal Year which ends in March 2011. This equals out to approximately thirty dollars a pay or sixty dollars per month which combined with the lowest rates around makes being a member very affordable! A yearly membership is just $590.00 for a military member Rec card holder and $625.00 for civilians. Regular Green Fee rates are a fantastic deal at $34.00 and $20.00 for 18 and 9 holes of golf respectively. Members of the Legion, Annapolis Mess, or Community Centre (Recreation Card Holder) can visit their respective organizations and receive a voucher $10.00 off a regular 18-hole green fee! If you show your military ID, you will receive a 20% discount off the regular Green Fee rate. You are not going to beat these prices anywhere.

The focus of the GGC is not only on golfers but on what this course can provide to 14 Wing members! Other considerations were to get the membership to 400 members; hold tournaments for the Wing, local businesses, and charities; generate a better sense of community (it’s called a Club for a reason) and trying to find ways to utilize the clubhouse venue for functions such as section wingouts, or a quiet lunch with a great view! Being local is convenient and helps promote the health and welfare of the members of the Wing, helping build esprit de corps and bringing a lot more to the 14 Wing community than once thought.

The GGC is a competitive business focused on continuous improvement and self-sustainment. A major misconception is that the club is funded by the Wing, which is not the case; all funding is Non-Public so memberships and green fees are the major revenue generators. The local market is saturated with lots of choices out there for the golfing consumer – we will continue to focus on our core strengths by providing the most enjoyable and affordable golf experience with the friendliest atmosphere.

With natural competitiveness between all the local courses (there are five courses within a thirty kilometre radius of Greenwood) what does the future hold for the Greenwood Golf Club? Well the first concern is trying to make it more enjoyable for the members! Other considerations were to get the membership to 400 members; hold tournaments for the Wing, local businesses, and charities; generate a better sense of community (it’s called a Club for a reason) and trying to find ways to utilize the clubhouse in the off-season (partnership with Personnel Support Program Fitness Centre for cross-country skiing or snowshoeing for example) if you spend four of seven days at the golf course, maybe you could find a couple of hours a week to volunteer your time to contribute to your club. The GGC needs your help at both the Executive Committee level and the general volunteer level to assist with running tournaments and pitching in when required. Volunteering for the club does your community the greater good! Contact the club President, Major Tom Gorman at 765-1494 ext 3606 if you’re interested in volunteering.

Did you know that it is cheaper to buy a membership than to golf once every week? Visit http://greenwoodgolfclub.ca for more information.
