Day in the life

David Graham, Member of Parliament for Laurentides—Labelle, had a bird's eye view of Royal Canadian Air Force work on Canada's East Coast, as 14 Wing Greenwood hosted the familiarization Canadian Armed Forces Parliamentary Program visit May 15. Tours of the wing's workspaces and aircraft and meetings with personnel in the many different trades that support long range patrol and search and rescue operations concluded with some flying time in the CC130 Hercules. On the ramp, from left, are Graham, 14 Wing Greenwood Colonel Mike Adamson and Wing Chief Warrant Officer Luc Emond. Corporal B. White-Finkle, 14 Wing Imaging

Honorary colonels take in East Coast RCAF operations

dian Air Force's most senior and experienced members will be in Nova Scotia June 6 to 8. The command's honorary colonel contingent will gather for their annual conference, taking in seminars, meeting personnel and taking tours of the equipment and facilities that contribute to East Coast air force operations. based out of 12 Wing Shearwater and 14 Wing Greenwood.

The program starts early June 6. with an 8:30 a.m. from-the-wharf day sail planned aboard HMCS Charlottetown. Navy and Naval Air operations demonstrations are planned while aboard. An evening meet and greet includes the commander of 12 Wing and staff, and guests from MARLANT. New Royal Canadian Air Force Commander Lieutenant-General Al Meinzinger will formally welcome attendees.

June 7, the group packs in a number of tours and briefings at the Maritime Helicopter Training Centre, the Shearwater Air Museum, simulators and static displays. The group will be joined by Major-Gen-

Several dozen of the Royal Cana- eral Christian Drouin, 1 Canadian Air Division: and Brigadier-General Dave Cochrane, 2 Canadian Air Division; and have briefings with Colonel Shayne Elder, Brigadier-General Kevin Whale and Colonel McLeod on the RCAF Aerospace Warfare Centre, space and air readiness, respectively.

> June 8, the group travels to 14 Wing Greenwood, to be greeted by Colonel Mike Adamson and command team members. Two alternating tours will take the honorary colonels to the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum and on a wing tour of facilities and static aircraft. Representatives from Canadian Forces Morale and Welfare Services will present on Support our Troops philanthropic initiatives. Honorary Colonel Stéphane Guevremont will lead a historical presentation, "404 Squadron and the Strike Wings, 1943-45: the RCAF pioneering the destruction of German shipping with rockets only." A discussion with RCAF leadership closes the day, with the group returning to Halifax.

The Kingston Lions hosted the eighth Lions Foundation Walk for Dog Guides, supported by Pet Value, May 27. Approximately 30 walkers supported this fundraiser, followed by a BBQ hosted by the Lions. Approximately $4,000 was raised to support the Lions Foundation of Canada in its quest to provide special dogs for those who are blind, have fiscal challenges, special needs such as autism and diabetic awareness. Lions organizers thank the Greenwood Pet Value and Pine Ridge Middle School for support and financial contributions. Kingston Lions are proud to support the national foundation's efforts in supporting those less fortunate than ourselves.

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Zackery Lavers Submitted

My Cadet experience

My name is Zackery Lavers, and I am currently a Cadet with 106 Ari Squadron in Windsor. I have been in the Air Cadet program for three years now, and I have experienced new things every year. Cadets has impacted me in so many different ways, and it is helping me both with a variety of different opportunities in the present and deciding what I would like to do in the future.

One of the many things I have gotten to do is go up in the air in a glider. Recently, my squadron went to 14 Wing Greenwood and we got to go up in a CP140 Aurora, an experience of a lifetime and I am only 15 years old. While flying, I was walking around the plane and we hit some turbulence and I fell into a chair. I also got to sit in the flight engineer's seat. The crew allowed me to experience as much as possible.

I have also been to participate in an effective speaking competition, go to summer camp and meet new friends, fly in airplanes and write this article - just some examples of what I have done in Air Cadets. Some of my best memories now are from Cadets.

Cadets has given me the motivation and opportunity to give back to the community. It has also given me some of the skills I might someday need to make my future life and career possible.

Who dies, who does it Players present suspense, thrills in 'Deathtrap'

The Greenwood Players are he and his wife. Myra. Jure suspense fully awaiting the audience's reaction to their latest production, Ira Levin's "Deathtrap."

The play holds the record for the longest-running thriller on Broadway. Sidney Bruhl, a previously successful playwright and once the toast of Broadway, has hit a slump. Clifford Anderson, a student at one of Sidney's writing seminars, has sent Sidney a script, "Deathtrap" - which Sidney is certain will be a hit. The play is a five-character, two-act thriller so perfect, as Sidney says, "a gifted director couldn't even hurt it!" Using his skill at plot development, and out of desperation to be the Toast of Broadway again, Sidney cooks up an almost unthinkable scheme:

Clifford to their home. But it's clear things are not what they seem! Indeed, Helga Ten Dorp, a nosey psychic from next door; and Porter Milgram, Sidney's observant lawyer; can only speculate where the line between truth and deception lies.

Rehearsals are well underway and actors are sworn to secrecy about who dies and who does it!

Under the direction of Greenwood Player's artistic director, the ever-suspicious Jeffery Pocock, and with a cast of Player's stalwarts - Joey Lajoie and Todd Detchevery (making his first appearance since playing Felix Unger in the "Odd Couple") - and newcomers Farrah Ferguson, Gabby Crossley and
